SCOPE AND OBJECTIVES

Survey of the Uses of School Nurses and Other School Health Workers¹

SCOPE

The Joint Legislative Audit and Review Committee (JLARC) shall conduct a survey of the uses of school nurses and other school health workers during the 1996-1997 school year.

OBJECTIVES

The JLARC survey shall be limited to collecting the following information for the 1996-1997 school year:

- Number of students within each school district;
- Number of school nurse and other school health worker FTEs;
- Types and frequency of health activities provided by the school nurse or other school health worker;
- Number of school nurses or other school health workers who hold a current CPR or first aid certificate;
- How health-related information is being collected by each school district; and
- Funding sources for nurses in school districts.

The JLARC survey shall include all 296 school districts in Washington.

Note: The JLARC survey will not include a workload analysis or assessment of the efficiency or effectiveness of each school district's school nurse or school health worker staffing plans.
